

Spot rubber prices in Asia fell on May 7

SINGAPORE, May 7, the Asian cash rubber prices fell on Monday due to the TOCOM market sell-off.

A trader in Singapore said that trading was slow, and buyers on the sidelines waiting for further clear clues to turbulent markets.

In addition, the Thai grade rubber offer is still very high, I am very puzzled, “he added,” I do not think the buyer will pay at these levels. “

June / July shipment of Thailand on the 3rd Yan Pianjiao RSS3 at 390-392 cents per kilogram, the previous day at 390-393 cents per kilogram.

June / July shipment Thai tire grade Standard plastic STR20 376-377 cents per kilogram, the previous day at 377-378 cents per.

June / July shipment of Indonesian tire grade Standard rubber SIR20 358-359 cents per kilogram, the previous day at 360-361 cents per kilogram.

June / July shipment, the Malaysian tire-class standard rubber SMR20 366-367 cents per kilogram, the previous day at 371-372 cents per kilogram.